

The National Association for the Education of Young Children helps students and new teachers shape their futures as educators. NAEYC also has many ways for you to help shape the future of the early childhood profession.

You want to build better futures for young children. Your professional association wants to help. Find out more at www.naeyc.org

naeyc

1313 L Street NW, Suite 500
Washington, DC 20005-4101
202.232.8777 • www.naeyc.org

Become a Great Early Childhood Educator and Help Build a Great Future for Early Childhood Education

Get Involved!

- Access great member resources like the award-winning journal, Young Children—now available online for members—and our new publication, Teaching Young Children.
- Read selected Young Children articles and other free resources online on Beyond the Journal—<http://journal.naeyc.org/btj>
- Find out about Affiliate events in your community and state—www.naeyc.org/affiliates
- Join Online Communities of educators around the country focused on specific issues, including the Student Interest Forum—www.naeyc.org/members

Get Connected!

- Sign up for E-News from NAEYC to get the latest early childhood news and issues—www.naeyc.org/members
- Come to the NAEYC Annual Conference & Expo and connect with other students, new teachers, and experienced educators—www.annualconference.naeyc.org
- Search for job opportunities through the NAEYC Career Forum—www.naeyc.org/careerforum

Get Active!

- Join NAEYC and your Affiliates advocating in Washington and around the country for all young children—www.naeyc.org/policy
- Get our Children's Champions e-mail alerts, which will help you speak up for policies that will improve early childhood education—www.naeyc.org/policy
- Participate in the Early Childhood Club at your college or university—or get friends together and start one!